FOUNDED BY BERNICE JOHNSON REAGON

in 1973 at the D.C. Black Repertory Theater Company, Sweet Honey In The Rock, the internationally renowned a cappella ensemble, has been a vital and innovative presence in the music culture of Washington DC and in communities of conscience around the world.

From Psalm 81:16 comes the promise to a people of being fed by honey out of the rock. Honey—an ancient substance, sweet and nurturing. Rock—an elemental strength, enduring the winds of time. The metaphor of sweet honey in the rock captures completely these African-American women whose repertoire is steeped in the sacred music of the Black church, the clarion calls of the civil rights movement, and songs of the struggle for justice everywhere.

Rooted in a deeply held commitment to create music out of the rich textures of African-American legacy and traditions, Sweet Honey In The Rock possesses a stunning vocal prowess that captures the complex sounds of blues, spirituals, traditional gospel hymns, rap, reggae, African chants, hip-hop, ancient lullabies and jazz improvisation. Sweet Honey’s collective voice, occasionally accompanied by hand percussion instruments, produces a sound filled with soulful harmonies and intricate rhythms.

In the best and in the hardest of times, Sweet Honey has come in song to communities across the United States and around the world, raising her voice in hope, love, justice, peace and resistance. Sweet Honey invites her audiences to open their minds and hearts and think about who we are and how we treat each other, our fellow creatures who share this planet and, of course, the planet itself.

Following their 2008 Grammy-nominated release, Experience…to, Sweet Honey returned to the studio to record Go in Grace, original music composed for the Alvin Ailey American Dance Theater. Together, these two artistic treasures of the African-American experience performed this once-in-a-lifetime collaboration throughout the United States during the 2008–2009 season.

Equally thrilling was the invitation received from First Lady Michelle Obama in February 2009 to perform at the White House in celebration of African-American History Month. As the Associated Press reported, “foot-stomping music filled the East Room” as Sweet Honey sang for sixth- and seventh-graders from around the city.

Sweet Honey In The Rock is Aisha Kahlil, Carol Maillard, Louise Robinson, Nitanju Bolade Casel, Shirley Childress Saxton and Ysaye Maria Barnwell.

Aisha Kahlil possesses a dynamic, innate power and range in jazz, blues, traditional, contemporary and African vocal styles and techniques.

Ms. Kahlil’s interest in music was evident at an early age. She was a member of local choirs in her native Buffalo, New York, and performed as a vocalist with the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra in several productions, including Porgy and Bess, Carmen Jones and The Messiah. She also sang the role of Monica in a WGBH production of Menotti’s The Medium, and performed at Carnegie Hall in Julius Eastman’s The Threeway. She worked with the Studio Arena Theatre, where she was awarded a full scholarship, and at the Buffalo Black Drama Workshop, where she toured in the production Willis Way Is Not a Violent Man, directed by Ed Smith. During this time she became interested in the music of such jazz artists as John Coltrane, Leon Thomas, Betty Carter and Pharoah Sanders.

Ms. Kahlil majored in theater at Northeastern University in Boston. She also studied voice and music theory at the New England Conservatory of Music, and performed with Ebony Jua, a local jazz ensemble that toured the East Coast. While at Northeastern, Ms. Kahlil directed Mecogo and the Green Ball of Freedom, Where we at?, a play by Martin Charles, and performed and directed Sister Sonji, by Sonia Sanchez.

A master teacher in voice and dance, Ms. Kahlil has taught at the Institute for Contemporary Dance, The Joy of Motion, the Boston Center for the Arts, Leslie College, the Dance Place, and the D.C. Black Repertory Theatre, as well as teaching and lecturing at the University of Hawaii at Manoa and at Maharishi International University.

Ms. Kahlil’s artistic pursuits have taken her to New York City, where she studied extensively at the Alvin Ailey School, and with Frank Hatchett, Pepsi Bethel, Fred Benjamin, and Emiko and Yasuko Tokunaga. She also appeared in Joseph Papp’s off-
Ms. Robinson’s career has taken her up many paths, including performances both on and off-Broadway and in film and studio recording. She has also worn the producer’s hat as she, along with Ms. Maillard and Smokey Ronald Stevens, produced A Sho Nuff Variety Revue, a series of performances showcasing some of New York’s finest talent, including Adolph Caesar, Sandra Reeves Phillips and legendary tap dancers Gregory Hines, Avon Long and Joe Aartes.

Ms. Robinson was the founding director of the Bay Area cappella quintet Street Sounds, taking their music around the country and the world for 14 years. Ms. Robinson returned to Sweet Honey In The Rock in 2004, and combines her experience in theater and music to offer workshops that explore the creative freedom in us all.

Nitanju Bolade Casel became a member of Sweet Honey In The Rock in 1985, after four years of studying, performing and cultural organizing in Dakar, Senegal. As a co-founder, with Marie Guinier, of Artistes des Echanges Africaines, she worked in alliance with local artists, the National Council of Negro Women, the National Theatre Daniel Sorano, the University of Dakar, Air Afrique, Television and Radio Orts, the Schombberg Center for Research and Development, and the late Dr. Ewart Guinier of Harvard University. Ms. Casel is also the former assistant director of the Art of Black Dance & Music and director of Young Afrique Dance Company, both in Massachusetts. Ms. Casel now works with her sister, Aisha Kahlil, as co-director of First World Productions, and heads her own publishing company, Clear Ice Music. Her compositions can be heard in the Australian Broadcasting Company’s 2006 educational series, Sing!, Mystic Seaport’s multimedia history presentation Black Hands, Blue Seas: The African American Maritime Experience and Tribeca Production company’s The Box. Ms. Casel was a finalist in both the 2006 and 2007 International Songwriter’s Competitions, and a Grammy nominee for Sweet Honey’s Experience...101, which she produced.

Ms. Casel lives on the east coast with her husband, Oso Tayari and their teenage son, Obadele.
Ysaye Maria Barnwell was born in New York City and has lived in Washington DC for over 40 years. Her life experiences have taken her down three major paths. She began in music at age 2½, studying violin for 15 years with her father and majoring in music in high school. She sang in a choir while in junior high school and in college. In 1976, she founded the Jubilee Singers at All Souls Unitarian Church in Washington DC. It was there, in 1979, that Bernice Johnson Reagon witnessed her as a singer and a Sign Language interpreter and invited her to audition for Sweet Honey In The Rock.

Dr. Barnwell is also a speech pathologist with bachelor's, master's (SUNY Geneseo, 1963–1968) and doctoral (University of Pittsburgh, 1975) degrees, and was a professor in the College of Dentistry for more than a decade. In 1981, she completed post-doctoral work and earned a Master of Science in Public Health.

Over the past two decades, Dr. Barnwell has earned a significant reputation as a commissioned composer and arranger, author, master teacher and choral clinician in African-American cultural performance. She has authored two children's books, No Mirrors in My Nana's House and We Are One, both published by Harcourt, Inc.; a boxed set of African-American stories and songs for young people, Um Hmm; and an instructional boxed set, Singing in the African American Tradition. She created the Community Sing, which she conducts monthly in Washington DC, and the workshop Building a Vocal Community: Singing in the African American Tradition, which she has conducted on three continents, utilizing an African worldview and African-American history, values, and cultural and vocal traditions to work with and build community among singers and nonsingers alike. Her pedagogy is highly respected among musicians, educators, health workers, activists, organizers and in the corporate and non-profit sectors. Dr. Barnwell is also an aspiring actress whose most recent endeavors include the narration for the NPR documentary, W. C. Handy's Blues.
