BERKELEY, AUGUST 2, 2011—Five new concerts have been added to the season lineup. The Calder Quartet with composer/pianist Thomas Adès (Oct. 2) and the San Francisco Symphony conducted by Jane Glover (May 1) bookend the season while three concerts surveying innovative works by some of the top composers in contemporary music such as Gerard Grisey, Magnus Lindberg and Kaija Saariaho will be given by the 11 member Eco Ensemble conducted by David Milnes (Jan. 21, Feb. 11 and Mar. 24).

Single tickets for Cal Performances 2011/2012 season will go on sale to the public on Sunday, August 7; members of the Email Club may begin purchasing tickets one week prior on Sunday, July 31.

ADDED EVENTS

British composer, conductor and pianist Thomas Adès joins the Calder Quartet for a performance featuring his “viscerally appealing and intellectually stimulating music” (The New York Times) on Sunday, October 2 at 3:00 p.m. at Hertz Hall. The “outstanding California ensemble” (The New York Times) is well known on both coasts due to its residency at the Juilliard School from 2005 to 2007, winning the 2009 ASCAP Adventurous Programming Award plus performing at the rock festival Coachella Music and Arts Festival and appearing on late night television with Jay Leno, David Letterman, and Conan O’Brian. In addition to Adès, the ensemble is also a favorite partner of composers Christopher Rouse and Terry Riley. The Berkeley program includes Adès's Arcadiana, Darknesse Visible, Three Mazurkas and Piano Quintet along with works by Stravinsky and Nancarrow.

Returning to Cal Performances for their second season appearance, the Eco Ensemble gives a trio of concerts featuring the work of some of the most inventive and multi-faceted composers of contemporary music, including Magnus Lindberg and Kaija Saariaho (Jan. 21), Frank Bedrossian and Nico Muhly (Feb. 11) and the legendary Gerard Grisey whose Quatre Chants and Talea will be performed on March 24. The Eco Ensemble, under the direction of David Milnes, professor and Orchestra Director in the Department of Music and based at UC Berkeley, is a new group of leading Bay Area musicians dedicated to exploring and sharing the work of adventurous composers with experienced audiences and new listeners. Its unique collaboration with UC Berkeley's Center for New Music and Audio Technologies (CNMAT) informs and inspires the ensemble's work. The Saturday series of concerts will be held at Hertz Hall at 8:00 p.m.

The San Francisco Symphony comes to Berkeley on Tuesday, May 1 at 8:00 p.m. as part of its Centennial Season celebration. This is not without precedent: the orchestra performed regularly in Berkeley for decades beginning in 1919 until the opening of Davies Hall in 1980. The ensemble will be conducted by Britain's Jane Glover who is well known to Cal Performances: she conducted the 2006 American premiere of Mark Morris's King Arthur. She will conduct appropriate music for such a celebration: Handel's Water Music Suite No. 3 and Royal Fireworks Music and Bach's Brandenburg Concertos Nos. 2, 3 and 6.

A collaboration with Nobel Prize-winning writer Toni Morrison and Malian singer/composer Rokia Traoré, the work explores issues of gender, race, love and destiny as Desdemona and her maid Barbary reach beyond Othello (Oct. 26–29). The 2011 orchestra residency, launched in the 2010–2011 season with the Vienna Philharmonic, features legendary Russian conductor Valery Gergiev and the great Mariinsky Orchestra of St. Petersburg (Oct. 14–16) in a three-performance cycle of the six Tchaikovsky symphonies.

A new series First Stages for Families begins this season. Designed to introduce young people and their adults to an array of performing arts, three companies/artists will be presented on Sundays at 11:00 a.m. and 3:00 p.m.: Cashore Marionettes, a troupe that has redefined the art of puppetry, gives a program titled Simple Gifts—a sequence of affecting scenes from everyday life set to music by Vivaldi, Strauss, Beethoven and Copland (Oct. 23); instrumentalist/singer David Holt brings his Songs and Stories of Appalachia (Feb. 12) and Bay Area theater company Word for Word performs Stories from Sonoma Mountain by Greg Sarris, a new production that draws on folk tales from the First Peoples and the landscape of Northern California (May 6).
